Cotton Mattresses Gradually Are Taking the Places of Feather Ones

O. L. NEWSOM MANAGER
OF THE LOCAL PLANT

Three Excellent Grades Are Made By Twin City
Company

(By J. E. Blair.)

An important change in modern life is in the way we sleep. That imbecilic way we once had of covering up head and ears when preparing for dread land has been abandoned. The rule now, is to sleep winter and summer with both doors and windows wide open.

Some of the most approved sleepers welcome the twin brother of death out in the open, with nothing around them, but a thin screen wire to keep cousin mosquito out.

And just as modern life is retiring many animals (save the cow) once considered indispensable, so are we modern sleepers are retiring that bird called by some "the old gray goose"— the one grandma was saving to make her feather bed!

Reason? Feather beds are no longer considered necessary or even desirable. The mattress now receives our tired bodies when the day is done.
And as a mattress is made out of cotton, entirely, King Cotton is winning still another great industrial victory.
Cotton Mattresses Made in Decatur.

A thoughtful lawyer once said as he spent a third of his time more or less in bed therefore he was going to have a good mattress to sleep on, one as good as are made at the Twin City Mattress company, located at 505
West Market street.

To prove the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth was told when it was declared mattresses are made in their entirety of cotton, the letter head of the company in question says as much. The Decatur concern makes three grades of mattresses—"The Special"—"The Lazy," and what is known as the "Standard Mattress"—named possibly from the Standard Oil Company that has its great storage tanks located just across the street from the Twin City Mattress company.

O. L. Newsom, the manager, said he was away behind on orders, and that he shipped to such cities as Athens, the Tri-Cities, Hartselle and Cullman.

Owing to the total destruction of his plant in the spring Mr. Newsom is now forced to divide his time and money on rebuilding his factory. He formerly covered a block front, and is now gradually rebuilding to former capacity.

How They Make a Mattress
The cotton material from which sleeping mattresses are made, is bought in bulk by Mr. Newsom, and then fed into what cotton mill people would call a "picker" machine.
The local mattress picker is not so large or powerful as a cotton mill "picker" but it is the same in principle.

The cotton material feeds through fluted rolls called "feed rolls," and as it moves on, suddenly it is struck by a mighty two bladed steel knife called a "beater blade".

This beater blade is not sharp like a knife, but is square and it does its work as it revolves. A cotton mill "beater" makes 1400 revolutions a minute and having two or more blades, the cotton is struck from 28 to 42 hundred times a minute. Not much dirt and dust left after such a beating! That is why it does good to have Mr. Newsom's beat out mattresses.

BIG SUM MADE AVAILABLE BY THE PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Funds totalling $600,000 have been authorized by President Harding to enable the army engineers to begin construction work on the Wilson Dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., on extensive scale, pending issue of $7,500,000 appropriated by congress which becomes available October 1, it was officially announced today.

President Harding Wants Authority To Seize Roads and Mines Any Time

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Out of the cloud of uncertainty that has existed for several days as to President Harding's attitude on the question of seizing railroads and coal mines, came a clarifying announcement from the white house this afternoon that Mr. Harding desires to be armed with authority to take such steps before the forthcoming recess of congress.

There is considerable doubt, at this time, President Harding informed callers today, whether the federal

See Executives In H— Before Men Give Up Seniority, Jewell Declares

(By International News Service.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The striking shopmen will see the railway executives "in hell first" before they surrender their seniority rights, is the message sent out today by B. M. Jewell, head of the strikers, to the rank and file of his organization.

"During all of these eight weeks," declared the message, "our people have responded to the offers to every one who has tried to compromise the differences and now they say to us, in substance, 'if you are willing to make an unconditional surrender and crawl back like a whipped dog we will take back a few of you' and we reply to that with all the vigor and earnestness of our make-up we'll see you in hell first."

Many Addresses Heard Today At the Meeting of Rail Shopmen

The following official statement was issued by H. C. Hutchinson, chairman of the publicity committee, on the rail strikers meeting held today at the Princess theater:

F. E. Halbrooks, J. T. Halbrooks, Geo. Evans and R. C. Halbrooks opened the rail strikers meeting this morning which proved to be an enthusiastic one.

The position of the church, in favoring a living wage as based on the cost of living, was referred to by Henry Wilson, Boiler Maker's chairman. He declared amid cheers that labor in the present strike had been largely instrumental in bringing pressure to bear on the Wage Board to where it was about to at last approach the wage question as labor and the church councils had always contended.

The report of Frank Lewis of Federated Committee showed donations were steadily coming in. Enthusiasm was aroused by the check of Dr.

Girl and Lawyer Shot on Street By Knoxville Man, Jealousy Cause

(By International News Service.)
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 29.—
Miss Ollie Hurst was probably mortally wounded and George Reeves, an attorney, is in a serious condition this morning as a result of being shot down on the street late last night.
Police are searching for Frank Colton, alleged to have fired five shots into the woman and attorney when he met them, police say, because of a fit of jealousy.

Friends of Miss Hurst say she had quarreled with Cotton, who is well known locally, and when Cotton met her last night, he opened fire with this warning: "You can't play with

AIRPLANE CAN LAND ON TENNIS COURT

As the result of an invention by Lawrence B. Sperry, the young wizard of the air, Grigadier-General William Mitchell, Chief of Operations of the U. S. Air Service, declares a speeding airplane can now be landed safely on a tennis court, instead of the immense field formerly needed. Sperry has placed skids, such as were originally used by the Wright brothers on their first machines, above the wheels of his biplane. He takes off by using the wheels, but once in the air he drops the wheels by means of a mechanical device, and when he lands on the skids, which halt the machine instantly, instead of running along for hundreds of feet, as it would on wheels.

Eight Persons Are Hurt When Ford Automobile Goes Over Embankment

Eight persons injured, one of them perhaps seriously, when a Ford car went over an embankment near Leighton Sunday afternoon were reported recovering today.

Miss Louis Turner, of Sheffield, sustained painful cuts about the face when the car struck a barbed wire fence. Miss Thelma Hurley, of Leighton, was slightly hurt. Miss Mary Chappell Rogers, of Decatur, sustained painful cuts and bruises, together with a broken arm. William Walker, of Cherokee, suffered two broken ribs. Rath Harris, also of Cherokee, was cut about the face and

Fireman Burned As Gas Explodes

FLINT, Ala., August 29.—A fireman in the employ of road construction company was the victim of a painful accident Monday night while in the act of drawing gasoline from a tank by lantern light. The gasoline exploded, burning up the contents of the tank, and caught the clothing of the unfortunate man on fire. He ran, fanning the flames which spread over his clothing, and as a result was considerably burned. His burn, while painful, are not considered of a very serious nature. He was given medical attention, and today is reported as getting on as well as could be expected.

BIG FOUR WILL MEET SECRETLY WITHIN NEXT 48 HOURS TO FRAME THEIR POLICY TOWARD EXECUTIVES AND RAIL STRIKE

Unions Want Assurances From Roads On Four Principals Points. By Serving Notice They Are Free To Act

(Copyright 1922 By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—While both legislative and executives branches of the government were engaged today in evolving plans to meet the industrial emergency, fresh troubles arose to threaten complications in the critical situation.

International News Service was informed that chiefs of the "Big Four" brotherhoods will meet secretly in Cleveland within the next 48 hours to determine the advisability of serving 30 days' notice on the railroads of their intention of terminating present working agreements.

The existing working agreements between the brotherhoods and the railroad are mostly of the continuity type, running from year to year or until one side gives 30 days notice of intentions to terminate.

Should the Cleveland conference decide to give notice, it would be served as of August 31, according to brotherhood leaders in Washington and would be tantamount to serving notice that new contracts would not be negotiated September 30, unless there was an adjustment of grievances before that date.

Serving notice on the railroads will leave the powerful brotherhoods, who hold the balance of power in the present strike of shopmen, free to act in any way they see fit at the expiration of 30 days.

This was looked upon by several union leaders in Washington as merely a precautionary measure in case of certain developments.

The unions want assurances from the railroads on four main points before entering into new working agreements, according to brotherhood spokesmen in Washington. These are:

1. No reduction of wages.
2. Armed guards employed in the shopmen's strike to be confined to the shops themselves.
3. No compromise, modification, or new interpretation of seniority rights, regardless of the outcome of the shopmen's strike.
4. Assurances that only safe equipment will be used and impaired rolling stock will be retired upon orders from inspectors.

The railway executives were acquainted, in New York, with the desires of the brotherhoods and the majority of them signified their willingness to meet the demands it was announced in labor circles.

It is not stated positively, however, whether the executives will acquiesce to the principle of seniority.
It is apparent today that the powerful brotherhoods are torn between conflicting emotions:

1. To safeguard their own interests.
2. Fear that if the shopmen are defeated and the precedent of losing the principle of seniority is once lost, it may work against them in the same way sometime.

Brotherhood spokesmen in Washington today deprecated talk of a strike on the part of the brotherhoods and emphasized that the Cleveland conference does not imply a strike, but rather that the brotherhoods desire to negotiate a new contract on broader lines.

Failure of the railroads to agree to new terms, might then lead to strike action, but that is a contingency upon which brotherhood spokesmen did not care to comment.

Ford Show To Be Held In Memphis

It has just been announced that an immense Exposition of agricultural and industrial power and equipment will be held in Memphis for eight days, beginning September 22nd, in connection with the Tri-State Fair.

According to Mr. Burk, local Ford dealer, this exposition will exhibit the most complete showing of agricultural power and equipment. It will also completely destroy the fallacious idea that the Fordson Tractor is for use on the farm only. Instead, it has become a tremendous power in the industrial field, and this great Exposition will show its manifold uses.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE
OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.SOME REASONS FOR A FEELING OF OPTIMISM

The truism that hope springs eternal in the human breast, was never more in evidence. Despite all that might hinder optimism is radiating from the business centres. Certainly there is more real belief in a revival now, than there was in the early months of last year—when people saw prosperity "just around the corner". Expectations are high for a business revival in the month of September. The stock and bond markets are holding out well. More shares have been sold lately, according to reports, than in the last two months. The announcement of the steel industries, both U. S. steel and the independent firms of a 20 per cent raise in wages is of tremendous importance. It is valueless to discuss the whys and wherefores of that raise in wages, that fact is the thing of importance. The results that must inevitably flow from such action is what concerns business man. In this connection it is heartening to true Americans to know that the long stream of daily labor from Europe is dwindling down to the vanishing point to what it was to be. There is probably too much foreign immigration now, but nothing to compare with the past. Reliable statistics show that in 1913 1,413,845, third class passengers landed in this country, but in June of this year 1922, there was an average of only 14,000—that comparison is an important one—it means that what laborers are employed are to have a higher purchasing power—just as when cotton is not too plentiful, the crop has a larger purchasing power.

The new labor immigration tends to stabilize the labor market. Just as regulation of the sales of cotton will stabilize that market. If industries have started their machinery, and as there was no limitless supply of labor from the old world, the end of the supply of labor seems to have been seen by the steel corporation, hence its policy of raising wages.

Henry Ford's dictum that good wages mean good business success, seems to have been adopted in part by the steel corporation, and the country may be expected to benefit in every respect by such a policy.

THE "FIFTH ESTATE"

The four estates as they are found in modern democracies may be listed as the executive, including kings, presidents, armies, navies and the like; the legislative, including parliaments, senators, congresses and all other bodies of lawmakers; the judicial and the press, which operates to express public opinion.

The fifth estate is the movie. The word movie is the people's word—strong, rich and vivid, much better than such pretensions terms as cine or photoplay. The thing itself is especially popular and ought to have a popular word. It ranks along with the street car and the census office as being a place of pure democracy. No man is any better than another.

As a rule, there is nothing like a rented pew or reserved seat in the movie theater. It is first come first served. The exclusive boxes are usually the word seats in the house, and the peanut gallery is really a better place to see the show than the bald-headed row. No other place except the county fair or the public school play ground has more democracy to the square inch.

It is an interesting phase of the triumph of the commons to see all classes of people all over the community creeping into a common hall for two hours of crepuscular enjoyment.

The movie appeals to the simplest and most universal interests of mankind. The highbrow and art-for-art's-sake gentlemen have not had very good success in this field. The public insists on patronizing the film that tells a good story, is full of action and sticks close to the primitive motives of humanity.

One possibility of the movie which puts it in line with modern ideas is that it is essentially international. France and Italy enjoy Charles Chaplin. A story from Spain is welcomed by an audience in Atlanta.

So, the Georgian thinks, the movie may have an important place in the great movement to reduce the narrowness of nationalisms and to teach the people of all races and tongues that they are essentially brothers of the same blood.—Atlanta Georgian.

THERE IS CASH ON ALABAMA FARMS

Alabama farmers, having practically completed the marketing of fruits and truck, are turning their attention to the gathering and marketing of the major crops of corn, cotton, cans and the like. The difference between this approach to this autumn and those of many preceding years, until the farmers learned the art of diversification, is that the farmer has cash in his pocket and need not sacrifice corn and cotton in order to feed his family.

Farming has become a year-around occupation.

Under the one-crop system it was an annual occasion with no cash until late fall. Now the farm family has money every week in the year. It comes from butterfat, which is produced all the time and is paid for in cash. It comes from the early vegetables which begin to move from Mobile and Baldwin in February, some in winter. It comes from the Satsuma orange and the pecan, from the sand pear and potatoes. Strawberries come in the early spring followed by beans and peas, cucumbers, watermelons and cantaloupes. In many localities these have been graded and are sold co-operatively. In such instances the full market value is realized.

The number of cars of watermelons moved this year is 1,623, compared with 1,121 during the same period last year. Alabama truckers have discovered the Irish potato as a cash crop. Shipments of that commodity this year have comprised over 2,000 cars, compared with 694 cars last season.

There is prosperity on the farms of Alabama for those who make farming a business the same as men keep store. That is being done more and more and the result is as happy as vividly apparent.—Age-Herald.

DO MEN PREFER A BABY STARE TO BRAIN

However, Fanny Hurst and Joseph Hergesheimer may disagree on what men and women really think of each other, in a debate in McCall's Magazine, they agree on the question:

"Do men like brainy women?"
"No!" declared both Miss Hurst and Mr. Hergesheimer emphatically.

"The common contention that men dislike an intelligent woman happens to be true," says Mr. Hergesheimer.

"To begin with, it is difficult to keep up the pretension of being a man, with all that gloriously implies, in the face of a calm and unsparing intelligence. Men's vanity, at once small and heroic, resolutely requires the sustaining encouragement of a feminine confidence.

"Men want the vitality of warmth, of generosity, from women; and when in place of that, they get intelligence they have very much the sensation of a hungry individual who offered good advice in place of food.

"Why women perversely choose men whom other men know to be worthless is an insoluble bezzle and default, commit murder of arson, he every recognized variety of rascal; he may embezzle and default, commit murder of arson, he may have the character of a hyena; yet, sometimes, the most absolute feminine loveliness will join herself to him.

"This, of course, is illogical; it is even indefensible. But it is dangerous to accuse women of being specially lacking in logic; it is too easy for them to point out the precedent rising in men. And if women choose, without wise consideration, detrimental men for their affections, men rattling with emptiness."

To which Miss rejoins philosophically:
"Well, they woo us, they marry us, they clothe us, they push revolving doors for us, they strut for us, they make laws for us, they father our children for us, and we, with almost a sadistic love of what we suffer for them, smile.

"A painter once caught all that behind the lips of a woman and erected upon her face the most cryptic expression in the world, Mona Lisa's. Men think it adorable and inscrutable. Women find it less enigmatic and some even think it a composite smile of what women think about men. A little good-humored, that smile, a little fond, a little sad, a little wise, a little crucified."—Huntsville Telegram.

GEERS' TRIUMPHS

"Pop" Geers, 71 years old and a marvelous driver of harness horses still, is receiving ovations wherever he goes in the Middle West, and his thousands of friends and well-wishers seem confined to no one section of this country. At Aurora, Ill., the other day Geers drove his game little pacer Sanardo to a world's record for a mile on a half-mile track in the remarkable time of 2:02 3-4, and he has been doing other things equally as interesting. The day was designated as "Pop Geers Day", and various honors were shown him when he established his record at Aurora and his treatment there is typical of his receptions all over the circuit of fairs he is attending. Geers is a Tennesseean and thousands of his own people will be glad to know that he is being received with such acclaim elsewhere.—Nashville Banner.

Watch out for the friend who seems about to brag about his coal pile.

And now they claim there is more liquor used in Europe that ever before. They must have an 18th amendment over there too.

To get up the ladder of fame you have to climb; to get down it, you only have to turn loose.

A newspaper head says Ford offer dead until another election. Blessed are those who expected nothing for verily they shall not be disappointed.

To those who say everybody knows where they stand, it might be said, but everybody don't know where they will fall or when.

Old man Hindenburg who once thought he had a line on the world, is clamoring for the return of a monarchy in Germany. He doubtless wants to get on a military pay roll, once more.

Foolish question 9009, what is the difference between a German mark and counterfeit money. With every passing day there is one good thing, that much less to worry about.

What with the general treatment given him, including the separation of Muscle Shoals from him, who blames Henry Ford for fixing to shut up shop September 16th.

It is said that the only thing that has boosted certain German coins since the war is the fact they will fit into subway fare boxes in little old New York.

WILL HE BE LEFT WAITING AT CHURCH?

Mary Landon Baker

Three times Miss Mary Landon Baker, beautiful Chicago heiress, has left her persistent fiancé, Alister McCormick, rich Chicago man, waiting at the church. The first time the guests were assembled in the church when she postponed the ceremony. The fourth time may "take," for they are now reported ready to be married "somewhere in England" between September 18 and 21. But no one can tell a woman's mind, and she has a right to change it.

WENT TO FRANCE TO FILM
"LOVE'S BOOMERANG"

Unable to find a circus in London available at the time for use in filming certain circus scenes of "Love's Boomerang," the Paramount picture featuring Ann Forrest and David Powell which will be shown at the Princess theater Wednesday, John S. Robertson, the producer, transported his entire staff from London to France where the necessary scenes were filmed.

The picture folk much enjoyed their two weeks' association with the circus people, following up the big tent outfit as it moved from place to place. Unforgettable for most of them were the days at the little old-world township of Caudebec-en-Caux, where the inhabitants vied with each other to give the first moving picture company they had ever had in their midst, a hearty welcome and a pleasant time.

Mr. Robertson speaks in the highest terms of the fine co-operation he received in his work from the Brothers Pinder, who manage the circus, in which many of the scenes were taken. Ann Forrest, who appears in the role of Perpetua, is equally enthusiastic about her first intimate glimpses of circus life and circus people, and talks by the hour of "Belle," the big elephant, who was her chief "support" and who, according to her accounts, is the most intelligent animal of her species. David Powell plays opposite her in the future.

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dille St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

dress cotton material every once and a while.

For besides making new beds, he renovates old ones—just as the old feather renovators of the long ago used to clean up a nice sum of money and the feathers of geese and ganders.

The "tick" (bed-tick) is ingeniously fastened on to the front end of Mr. Newsom's renovating picker machine, and is blown full of cleaned cotton material before you know it. Hand stitchers then finish the mattresses and Mr. Newsom says the machine stitching machines have never proved a success in finishing cotton mattresses. The local mattress factory has had to run on night time of late to keep in sight of the new orders continually coming in.

HARTSELLE SCHOOL OPENS ITS SESSION

HARTSELLE, Ala., August 29.—The opening of the Hartselle schools met the sanguine expectation of those interested in them. At the high school the registration showed near 200 the first day. All the rooms are full with the exception of the third year room. About 15 seats being vacant there. The senior room taxed the seating capacity, and provision must be made to take care of 15 seniors in another part of the building. The grammar school enrollment was between five and six hundred.

Today the lessons will be assigned at the morning session, and both schools will suspend in order that all who desire may attend the lecture of Prof. Sawney Webb of Belle Buckle, Tenn., at the high school auditorium at 10 o'clock. Prof. Webb arrived Monday afternoon. Mr. Webb has lectured at the schools here before, and those who heard him then will again avail themselves of the opportunity of again hearing this distinguished educator. Mr. Webb although well advanced in years, is mentally alert, and his advice and experience which he brings in well painted word pictures, gathered from a lifetime spent in the school room and at the forum, are gems of thought and are at all times forcibly expressed.

FALKVILLE TO VOTE ON SCHOOL TAX

FALKVILLE, Ala., August 29.—The citizens of Falkville are registering their enthusiasm in the educational line, setting a high mark. Accordingly there will be an election held on September 3, at which time the citizens will vote to enlarge the incorporation line, taking into the town limits considerable more area. It is also the purpose it is understood when this is accomplished to bond the town for funds with which to augment other funds, and the erection of a commodious school building is the goal toward which they have set their face.

In 1920 an effort was made to build a modern brick school building to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. Something over $30,000 of this amount was subscribed, but owing to the fact that the depression set in about that time, it was deemed best to call a halt, and await a time with patience until a more auspicious moment. The time seems now to have arrived, and the effort is solidifying toward the school sentiment in such a way that the erection of a modern school building in that favored section is almost a certainty.

Six teachers have been employed for the present term of the school at that place, and grades up to the eleventh inclusive will be taught at this term.

20 More Soldiers Are Ordered Here

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 29.—Twenty additional National Guardsmen left Montgomery Monday for Albany, Ala., where they will supplement the National Guard units which have been on active duty there for the past several weeks in connection with the strike of railway shopmen. All of the men sent, volunteered for this special duty. The Montgomery contingent included 4 recruits for a company, of Montgomery, which was ordered to Albany several weeks ago, 8 men from the Montgomery Blues and 1 from the Montgomery Grays.

Denies She Would Buy Friend's Husband

Mrs. Edith H. Wakefield

Mrs. Edith Huntington Spreckles Wakefield, divorced wife of the late John D. Spreckles, Jr., and now the wife of a San Francisco business man, whom she is suing for divorce, denies the charge of Mrs. Rodney Kendrick, wife of a San Francisco newspaper artist, that she offered to buy Kendrick for 100 a month and give Mrs. Kendrick a home if she would divorce Kendrick. Mrs. Wakefield, California society woman, says she is "stone broke" and that the idea "is absurd."

THAT MORNING LAMENESS

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert most serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Decatur testimony.

Mrs. W. A. McMillan, 415 E. Pond St., Decatur, says: "I know from experience how reliable Doan's Kidney Pills are. My kidneys became weak and didn't act as they should. When ironing, I got a terrible, heavy ache across my kidneys and had to put up my work and rest. Mornings I felt lame and achy through my back. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and my housework was a burden. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they rid me of all the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McMillan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

"NOT DEAD, BUT SLEEPETH"

Mrs. Dora Ann Stewart, wife of Frank Stewart, daughter of William and Ella Woodall, was born near Danville, Ala., April 9th, 1868, and died (in the house in which Mrs. Hines, then of Decatur, was summering when her little daughter, now Lady Curzon of England was born) August 13, 1922. She died of a lingering disease, but was patient and faithful to the last. She was a devout Christian, a member of the Methodist church at Trinity, Ala. Her funeral was largely attended. Services were conducted by Reverends J. I. Stockton and A. L. Davis. Beautiful flowers were in profusion. Rev. Stockton led at the home in an eloquent eulogy; followed by Rev. Davis who remembered her as a gleeful girl. Her last word to him, was a request for another one of his good prayers. Her death was peaceful, calm and trustful.

At the Morris cemetery, not distant, there being 200 to 300 present, services were continued. Rev. Stockton did the introductory work, when Rev. Davis, though feeble on account of extreme old age, delivered an earnest message based on Rom. VIII:18, Suffering Glory.

The appreciation shown, on this occasion, was beautiful.

The bereaved are J. Frank Stewart, his sons, Arthur and David L., and his daughters, Mrs. Hattie Vaughn, Misses Annie, Oma and Dora Belle. The brothers of deceased are John A. Joseph, Daniel, Charles Thomas, Mirion and Edward Woodall.

The funeral director was Mr. Priest. The pall bearers were George Bunt, James Gunn, Milton Alexander, Lee, Claude and Minor Lamon.

Hay Fever Relief May be Had Right at Home

WHILE there is no certain "cure" for hay fever, Vicks in many cases will give relief. As a preventive, keep Vicks up the nostrils, especially when exposed to dust.

To clear the head, melt Vicks in a spoon or tea kettle and inhale the vapors.

For relief during a night attack, rub Vicks over the spinal column from the neck to the hips. Then apply over throat and chest and cover with hot flannel cloths.

Leave the bed covering arranged in the form of a funnel so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

The Amazing Ways Thackeray Found His Fun.

THE great English novelist, William Makepeace Thackeray—author of "Vanity Fair," "Henry Esmond" and "The Virginians"—was a master of wit, humor and satire in his writings. And in his heart was a big boy, with all the gentle sweetness and bubbling fun of youth in his kindly nature until the day he died.

One of his day loved to have fun more than this big, jovial, brilliant man. He was always looking for fun or an excuse to imitate some one to make his friends laugh.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home
By WANDA BARTON
What System May Mean to the Busy Home-Maker.

MANY women who do their own housework do it with little or no idea of system, and then wonder that they have so little free time. The fact is not due to overwork, and does not call for a generous amount of self-pity, but it does call for the use of a little more gray matter in working out the problem.

One woman writes me that she "works from 6 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, but is never done"—this with a small, simply-furnished home, and only a husband and two children to look after. There is something radically wrong here, probably a lack of method, and it is small wonder that she is worn out and discouraged.

YOUR HEALTH

Why the Ozone of the Pines or Other Fresh Air Is Vital

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City

A FEW days ago a prominent editor wrote me as follows:
"We of the Southern country lay great stress upon the value of the ozone of the pines. We have much faith in the healing qualities and general healthfulness to be found in the vicinity of these trees." I applaud these views, and often during the long, cold winter through which we just passed, I longed for just such a place.

Fortunately, good health does not depend on latitude or longitude, or altitude or season. If you practice right living, deep breathing, proper eating and plenty of out-of-door life you may enjoy perfect health in the South, in Canada, on the western plains or in the great cities.

There can be no doubt, however, that the balmy air of the Southland, impregnated with the ozone of the pines, is particularly conducive to continued vigor to those who have suffered ill-health. The pines exude a balsam which possesses certain medicinal virtues. There is a certain desirability to continued vigor to those who have suffered ill-health.

her thought while getting air and exercising and also trading directly with the market means saving money. On getting home she slips into a house dress and is ready for the next duty. This may be a noon dinner. If not, the housewife prepares a bite for herself, and has all the afternoon to her until the children come home from school. Then she may look after her dinner preparations. While things are cooking she should arrange to do a little light reading. A book may be dropped at any moment when other things need attention. Dinner or supper over, the man or children, if they are big enough, may help with the dishes. Then, all have a free hour while the children are usually to be bed. Teach one child to help the other, and so to lighten mother's labor. Remember they are growing older every day, and little duties make them more stable and dependable.
